Oenothera biennis oil also known as evening primrose oil is the oil derived from the seeds of the evening primrose (Oenothera biennis) plant. It has a number of popular uses and is widely available in supplement form. Often abbreviated to EPO, evening primrose oil is a rich source of omega-6 essential fatty acids. Evening primrose oil contains linoleic acid as well as GLA – both are essential components of myelin, the protective coating around nerve fibers, and the neuronal cell membrane. Commercial preparations of evening primrose oil are typically standardized to 8 percent GLA and 72 percent linoleic acid. EPO is thought to help a wide variety of conditions including eczema, nerve pain, and osteoporosis.
