Abstracts

The report requires updating with new data and is sent in 48 hours after order is placed.

On-demand delivery, sometimes called dispatch delivery, is a convenient service that enables consumers to receive their goods quickly after placing an order. It involves a straightforward process where consumers are connected with drivers via a mobile application, allowing them to keep track of the delivery in real-time.

On-demand delivery is the process of delivering goods and services to customers when and where they want them, usually used to deliver perishable goods such as food and groceries. Through this method, the customer chooses the place and time in which he will receive his order, and this method also allows them to track their shipments and plan their schedules. This service helps in delivering products to customers quickly, which enhances their satisfaction with the service provided and better fulfills their desires.

The global On-Demand Delivery Services market size is projected to grow from US$ million in 2023 to US$ million in 2030; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of % from 2024 to 2030.
