Abstracts

The global Pet Dental Care Liquid market size is predicted to grow from US$ 269 million in 2025 to US$ 485 million in 2032; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of 9.0% from 2026 to 2032.

Pet dental care liquid is a product designed to maintain the oral health of pets. It helps remove plaque, tartar, and food debris from the surface of pets' teeth, preventing the build-up of harmful substances that can lead to dental problems such as cavities and gum disease. By eliminating the source of bad odors in the mouth, it helps keep pets' breath fresh, improving their overall oral hygiene and reducing unpleasant smells.

Pet owners are increasingly aware of the importance of their pets' oral health. They are more willing to spend on oral care products to prevent issues like plaque, gum disease, and bad breath. This has led to a rising demand for pet dental care liquids, which offer an easy and effective way to maintain pets' oral hygiene. The overall pet care industry is expanding, with a greater focus on holistic health solutions that include oral care. As a result, there are more products and brands in the market, and pet dental care liquids are becoming more widely available in stores and online. This increased accessibility is driving sales growth. Among pet oral care products, mouthwash/rinse, which includes dental care liquid, represents the largest segment. It is popular because it provides an easy and effective solution for pet owners to maintain their pets' oral hygiene without the need for brushing, which can be challenging for some owners.

North America currently holds the leading position in the pet oral care products market, including the market for pet dental care liquids. This is due to high pet ownership rates, increased spending on pet care, and strong awareness about pet health and hygiene in the region. However, the Asia-Pacific market is expected to grow rapidly in the coming years due to the increasing pet ownership and rising awareness of pet health in countries like China, India, and Japan.
