Abstracts

The global Pharmaceutical Grade Zein market size is predicted to grow from US$ 7.46 million in 2025 to US$ 12 million in 2032; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of 7.2% from 2026 to 2032.

In 2024, the global production of pharmaceutical-grade zein will reach 143 tons, with an average selling price of US$50 per kilogram.Pharmaceutical-grade zein is a highly purified, extracted, and strictly quality-controlled corn protein. As a natural, biodegradable, non-toxic, and safe functional material, it is widely used in pharmaceutical formulations and biomedical applications. Valued for its excellent film-forming properties, hydrophobicity, acid and alkali resistance, and good drug compatibility, it is commonly used in sustained- and controlled-release drug carriers, capsule coatings for oral solid dosage forms, injectable microspheres, oral thin films, and transdermal patches. It also has applications in tissue engineering scaffolds, wound dressings, and gene/protein delivery systems. Pharmaceutical-grade zein is manufactured in accordance with pharmacopoeial standards and GMP requirements, ensuring low impurities, low endotoxin levels, and batch stability. Meeting the high standards of pharmaceutical-grade safety and efficacy, it is considered an ideal biomaterial to replace some synthetic polymer carriers.
