The global Pig Breeding and Breeding market size is predicted to grow from US$ 9418 million in 2025 to US$ 15550 million in 2032; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of 7.6% from 2026 to 2032.

Pig farming is the raising and breeding of domestic pigs as livestock, and is a branch of animal husbandry. The breeding link is mainly the introduction and multiplication of the original breeding pigs, and the crossbreeding of purebred sows and boars to produce parental generation dual breeding pigs.

The increased consumption of animal-derived protein, as well as the growing worldwide population and fast urbanisation, are driving the expansion of the animal genetics market. Increased acceptance of genetic services to prevent genetic illnesses and business loss, as well as increased adoption of advanced genetic technologies, all contribute to the market's growth.
