The global Pneumatic Bidirectional Diaphragm Pump market size is predicted to grow from US$ million in 2025 to US$ million in 2032; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of %from 2026 to 2032.

The pneumatic bidirectional diaphragm pump is a positive displacement pump that uses compressed air or other gases as power to drive two diaphragm pump bodies to work alternately through a reciprocating drive component. It can effectively suck the medium from the input end and discharge the medium from the output end under pressure.

A pneumatic double diaphragm pump is a positive displacement pump driven by compressed air. Pneumatic double-diaphragm pumps are powered by air and are capable of pumping highly viscous, abrasive and corrosive fluids and are capable of handling any form of fluid. Therefore, pneumatic double diaphragm pumps are widely used in many industries such as food and beverage, chemical, pharmaceutical, oil and gas, paper and pulp, textile, construction and mining. The pump is also capable of transferring slurries and fluids containing solid particles. They are also submersible and explosion proof, which further expands their range of applications. Pneumatic double-diaphragm pumps market is expected to witness a huge demand over the forecast period, given their widespread use in several water treatment, construction, energy, and manufacturing industries.
