Poultry feed is food for farm poultry, including chickens, ducks, geese and other domestic birds. Modern feeds for poultry consists largely of grain, protein supplements such as soybean oil meal, mineral supplements, and vitamin supplements. The quantity of feed, and the nutritional requirements of the feed, depend on the weight and age of the poultry, their rate of growth, their rate of egg production, the weather (cold or wet weather causes higher energy expenditure), and the amount of nutrition the poultry obtain from foraging. This results in a wide variety of feed formulations.

The global poultry feed additives market share was dominated by Asia-Pacific. A strong economic growth and population growth is the key driver that pushed the market forward in this region. North America is the second largest market . Europe ranks third, where rising disposable income supported by the buoyant domestic demand and the large availability of feed grain, is the primary reason for the particularly strong growth in this market.
