The global Powdered Sodium Cocoyl Isotheonate market size is predicted to grow from US$ million in 2025 to US$ million in 2032; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of %from 2026 to 2032.

Powdered Sodium Cocoyl Isethionate (SCI) is a surfactant derived from coconut oil. This white, powdery substance is water-soluble and commonly used in personal care products such as shampoos, body washes, and facial cleansers. Known for its mildness and ability to create a creamy lather, SCI helps cleanse and condition the skin and hair. It is especially favored in formulations for sensitive skin due to its gentle cleansing properties and biodegradability, making it an eco-friendly choice in cosmetic applications.

The industry trend for powdered Sodium Cocoyl Isethionate involves a growing demand for sulfate-free and mild cleansing formulations in the personal care sector. As consumers prioritize gentler ingredients, SCI has gained popularity for its effectiveness in creating luxurious lather without causing irritation. Additionally, there's a focus on sustainability, with manufacturers exploring eco-friendly packaging and sourcing methods for coconut oil, aligning with the broader trend of environmentally conscious and skin-friendly cosmetic products. The versatility of powdered SCI in various formulations positions it as a key ingredient in the evolving landscape of mild and sustainable personal care products.
