The global Residential Video Intercom Equipment market size is predicted to grow from US$ 1810 million in 2025 to US$ 2547 million in 2031; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of 5.9% from 2025 to 2031.

A Video Intercom Equipment is a communication system that allows two-way audiovisual communication between the inside and outside of a building, typically used to control access to the building. It consists of a video camera and a speaker or microphone installed at the entrance (called a door station), and a display screen and speaker inside the building (called the indoor unit). This system enables the person inside to see and hear visitors at the door, and, if desired, engage in conversation and grant access by unlocking the door remotely. It enhances security by allowing residents to visually verify visitors before permitting entry. This report only studies residential Video Intercom Equipment.

The Residential Video Intercom Equipment market has experienced significant growth over the past few years, driven by increasing security concerns, technological advancements, and the rising demand for smart home solutions. A Residential Video Intercom Equipment and Equipment or doorbell phone is a vital communication device that allows two-way communication between residents and visitors, enhancing the security and convenience of homes, offices, and buildings.

The Residential Video Intercom Equipment market serves a variety of applications, with the largest market share coming from residential use. Residential buildings, including houses, apartments, and villas, make up the dominant segment of the market. With increasing concerns over home security, more homeowners are opting for doorphones to screen visitors and ensure their safety. The popularity of video intercoms in residential settings is particularly notable, as homeowners seek advanced features that offer both convenience and enhanced security.

The Asia-Pacific region is the largest consumer market for Residential Video Intercom Equipment, accounting for over 50% of the global market share.
