Abstracts

The global Self-adhering Roofing Underlayment market size is predicted to grow from US$ 3042 million in 2025 to US$ 5982 million in 2031; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of 11.9% from 2025 to 2031.

Roofing underlayment is composed of two waterproofing materials — an aggressive butyl rubber-based adhesive backed by a layer of high density, cross-laminated polyethylene.

The global residential roofing market has been growing due to increased construction and renovation activities. Self-adhering roofing underlayment is a popular choice for residential roofing projects because of its ease of installation and effective waterproofing properties. The occurrence of severe weather events, including hurricanes, storms, and heavy rainfall, has increased the demand for reliable roofing underlayment. Consumers and contractors are prioritizing products that offer enhanced water resistance and wind resistance. Self-adhering underlayment is preferred for its ease of installation, reducing labor costs and project timelines. Installers can work more efficiently with self-adhering materials, even in challenging weather conditions.
