Self-driving floor scrubbers are advanced cleaning machines that can perform floor scrubbing tasks without human intervention. These machines incorporate artificial intelligence and automation technologies to navigate and clean floors autonomously.

Self-driving floor scrubbers are equipped with sensors, cameras, and mapping technology that allows them to perceive their surroundings and create a digital map of the cleaning area. They can detect obstacles, navigate through complex environments, and adapt their cleaning pattern accordingly. These machines are designed to efficiently scrub and clean different types of floor surfaces, including tile, concrete, vinyl, and more. They are equipped with rotating brushes or pads that agitate and scrub the floor, along with water tanks and dispensing systems to distribute cleaning solution or water onto the floor surface.
