The global Small Ball Bearings (Ball Diameter Under 22mm) market size is predicted to grow from US$ 19720 million in 2025 to US$ 24380 million in 2032; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of 3.1% from 2026 to 2032.

A ball bearing is a type of rolling-element bearing that uses balls to maintain the separation between the bearing races.

The purpose of a ball bearing is to reduce rotational friction and support radial and axial loads. It achieves this by using at least two races to contain the balls and transmit the loads through the balls. In most applications, one race is stationary and the other is attached to the rotating assembly (e.g., a hub or shaft). As one of the bearing races rotates it causes the balls to rotate as well. Because the balls are rolling they have a much lower coefficient of friction than if two flat surfaces were sliding against each other.
