Standard liners are made of flexible low-weight plastics that can be separated easily when not in use. A standard liner is used as a protective layer over containers, which helps protect goods from dampness and moisture. Furthermore, standard liners are cost-effective packaging solutions as compared to other formats. Standard liners also provide better protection for perishable items that need to be transported on time. Standard liners are recyclable, which is an additional factor that is expected to drive the market during the forecast period. Standard liners are normally available in several materials, which include polyethylene, polypropylene and polyvinyl chloride. Moreover, metalized films made of aluminium, tin or steel are also available for standard liners.
