Stone Cleaning Products are professionally formulated chemical agents designed to remove contaminants from the surfaces and pores of natural or engineered stones (such as marble, granite, limestone, and quartz) while preserving their structural integrity and aesthetic appeal. Since natural stones are often sensitive to acids and alkalis, these products primarily feature pH-neutral formulas to prevent etching, dulling, or chemical erosion. They range from surfactants for surface-level dirt to deep-penetrating poultices for absorbing deep-seated stains, ensuring that the stone remains breathable and its natural crystalline structure is not compromised.
