The global Styrene Butadiene Rubber Latex market size is predicted to grow from US$ million in 2025 to US$ million in 2032; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of % from 2026 to 2032.

Styrene Butadiene Rubber Latex (SBR latex) is a synthetic polymer latex made from the copolymerization of styrene and butadiene.

SBR latex is widely used in the construction industry for applications such as tile adhesives, waterproofing membranes, and concrete modification. The construction industry's growth, particularly in emerging economies, has been driving the demand for SBR latex. It offers benefits such as improved adhesion, flexibility, and water resistance, making it suitable for various construction applications. SBR latex is widely used in the paper and packaging industry for coating applications. With the increasing demand for paper-based packaging materials, including cartons, boxes, and bags, the demand for SBR latex as a coating material has also been rising. SBR latex provides improved surface properties, such as smoothness, printability, and water resistance, enhancing the performance and aesthetics of paper-based products. SBR latex finds applications in the automotive industry, primarily in the production of carpet backing, adhesive systems, and foam products. The growth of the automotive industry, coupled with the increasing demand for comfort, durability, and noise reduction in vehicles, has contributed to the demand for SBR latex in automotive applications.
