Sun fabric is a sunshade fabric made by uniformly coating modified PVC on the outside of high-strength polyester fiber or glass fiber to form modified PVC coated yarn, which is then further woven and finished. The main feature of this type of product in terms of production technology is that the fiber yarn used is coated with modified PVC before weaving. The physical and chemical properties of PVC itself give the sun fabric many characteristics, including good flatness and dimensional stability, anti-aging, flame retardant, easy to clean, strong tensile strength, etc.; and modifying PVC with different formulas can further improve or enhance the functional characteristics of the sun fabric, such as mildew resistance, antibacterial, flame retardant, and UV resistance. With the above characteristics and functions, the sun fabric has the advantages of long service life, reduced building energy consumption, and strong fire retardant ability.
