A tanker is a ship designed to transport or store liquids or gases in bulk. Major types of tankship include the oil tanker, the chemical tanker, and gas carrier. Tankers also carry commodities such as vegetable oils, molasses and wine.

The growth in the global oil and gas logistics is estimated to be one of the major factors that will have a positive impact on the global tanker shipping market during the forecast period. Since 2014, the drop in the global crude oil prices have raised the demand for oil and gas during the forecast period. This rise in the global requirement for crude oil products will drive the global oil and gas logistics market. Moreover, the transportation of liquid hydrocarbons across the world is mainly done through waterways, and tankers are increasingly used for the transportation of liquid hydrocarbons, such as oil and gas,
