Telemental health consultation refers to the provision of mental health services remotely, typically through telecommunications technology. This could include video conferencing, phone calls, or secure messaging platforms. Telemental health consultations allow individuals to access mental health care from the comfort of their own homes or other convenient locations, eliminating barriers such as travel time, transportation issues, or stigma associated with visiting a mental health clinic in person. These consultations may involve assessments, therapy sessions, medication management, or other mental health interventions delivered by licensed mental health professionals. The primary goal is to provide effective and convenient mental health care to individuals who may not have easy access to traditional in-person services.

The global Telemental Health Consultation market size is projected to grow from US$ million in 2024 to US$ million in 2030; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of % from 2024 to 2030.
