A tip dresser is a device used to reshape the electrodes of spot-welding machines to restore their weldability. Applied to spot welding equipment, tip dressers are used in various fields. They not only restore weldability but also remove burrs formed during welding.

Previously, manual filing was commonly used for grinding electrodes, but this posed issues with worker safety, workload, and quality. Tip dressers address these concerns. Tip dressers are particularly beneficial for achieving precise tip shapes, a task that is challenging with standard polishing machines.

The global Tip Dresser market size is projected to grow from US$ million in 2023 to US$ million in 2030; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of % from 2024 to 2030.
