The global Towel Disinfection Service market size is predicted to grow from US$ 621 million in 2025 to US$ 930 million in 2032; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of 6.1% from 2026 to 2032.

Towel Disinfection Service refers to professional cleaning and sanitization services for towels, using processes such as high-temperature washing, chemical disinfectants, or UV treatment to remove dirt, bacteria, and odors. It is widely used in industries with high hygiene requirements, such as hotels, gyms, salons, and healthcare facilities.

The towel disinfection service industry is undergoing multi-dimensional transformation, with higher hygiene standards emerging post-pandemic, driving industry standardization. At the same time, companies are adopting automated sorting, intelligent washing, and disinfection systems to improve efficiency and consistency. Environmental and energy-saving technologies are increasingly implemented to reduce water and energy consumption while minimizing environmental impact. Structurally, the industry is moving toward centralized and large-scale operations, with integrated 'rental + cleaning and disinfection' service models gaining traction. With digitalization, technologies such as RFID enable full-process traceability, while demand from high-end hotels, salons, and fitness centers is driving the growth of customized, premium services.
