Vegetarian dog food is often used to help dogs with a variety of digestive problems, including stomach problems, constipation, and bloating. Plant-based ingredients are easy to digest and often free of irritating allergens, so even the most sensitive puppies can help get rid of symptoms. Plant foods are anti-inflammatory in nature, and they can help relieve joint pain and arthritis (making them great for older dogs). When dogs eat a vegan diet, their mobility increases, resulting in stronger muscles and greater endurance.
