Warning labels and stickers are one of the common advertising and branding techniques in today's world. A warning label is a certified notice from the manufacturer about the product's specific details such as date of manufacturing, expiry, batch number, and lot number. Also, stickers are used widely to differentiate similar kinds of products in the market. Thus, growth in competition majorly affects the global warning and sticker market. Retaining existing customers and attracting new ones is the major reason to use stickers. These stickers also help differentiate between high-end premium products and low quality products.

The demand for warning labels and stickers is expected to rise globally in the next 45 years, owing to various factors such as growth in number of similar products, safety concerns, and changes in branding techniques.
