Abstracts

The global Water-Based Coating Glue market size is predicted to grow from US$ million in 2025 to US$ million in 2032; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of % from 2026 to 2032.

Water-based coating glue is a gel-like material that is applied to the surface of a material to provide protection against water, moisture, or corrosion. Compared with traditional solvent-based coatings, water-based coating glue uses water as a diluent, so it is more environmentally friendly during construction and use and has less impact on the human body and the environment. Water-based coating glue usually has good adhesion and weather resistance, and can be used in construction, furniture, packaging and other fields. The main components of water-based coating glue include resin, additives, pigments and water. They can be applied by brushing, spraying, dipping, etc. to form a uniform protective film that plays a role in waterproofing, moisture-proofing, and anti-corrosion. In the construction industry, water-based coating glue is often used for waterproofing treatment of roofs, walls, floors and other parts; in the packaging industry, it can be used for moisture-proof treatment of paper, cardboard and other materials; in the furniture industry, it can be used for wood, Anti-corrosion treatment of fiberboard and other materials.

United States market for Water-Based Coating Glue is estimated to increase from US$ million in 2025 to US$ million by 2032, at a CAGR of % from 2026 through 2032.
