Workplace Breathalyser is a device used to measure the blood alcohol concentration (BAC) in an individual's breath within a professional environment. These breathalysers are employed to ensure that employees are not under the influence of alcohol while on duty, promoting safety and productivity. Workplace breathalysers are often part of occupational health and safety programs, especially in industries where operating machinery, driving, or other safety-sensitive tasks are involved. The device works by having the employee blow into a mouthpiece, which then measures the alcohol content in the breath and displays the estimated BAC. The results help employers maintain a safe work environment by preventing accidents and ensuring compliance with workplace alcohol policies.
