Abstracts

The global Pet Product Contract Manufacturing market size is predicted to grow from US$ 14170 million in 2025 to US$ 20600 million in 2031; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of 6.4% from 2025 to 2031.

Pet product contract manufacturing is a cooperative model in which one party (usually referred to as the client or Party A) owns the brand, design or formula of the pet product, but lacks production capacity and resources; while the other party (the OEM or Party B) has complete production facilities, technology and rich production experience, and can meet the production needs of the client. In pet product contract manufacturing, the client and the OEM sign a contract to clarify their respective rights and obligations. The client is usually responsible for providing product formula, production process requirements, raw materials (sometimes also entrusted to the OEM to purchase), packaging design, etc., while the OEM is responsible for production in accordance with the client's requirements, including raw material procurement (such as commissioned), production and processing, quality control, packaging and delivery, etc.

United States market for Pet Product Contract Manufacturing is estimated to increase from US$ million in 2024 to US$ million by 2031, at a CAGR of % from 2025 through 2031.

China market for Pet Product Contract Manufacturing is estimated to increase from US$ million in 2024 to US$ million by 2031, at a CAGR of % from 2025 through 2031.
