The global Whole-Body MRI market size is predicted to grow from US$ million in 2025 to US$ million in 2032; it is expected to grow at a CAGR of % from 2026 to 2032.

Whole-Body MRI is an imaging technique based on the principle of magnetic resonance imaging (MRI) that performs uninterrupted, full-coverage scans of the human body from the head to the lower limbs (or the entire body). It utilizes strong magnetic fields, radio frequency pulses, and a computer processing system to capture the resonance signals of hydrogen nuclei in water molecules within human tissues, generating multi-directional, multi-sequence images of the body's anatomical structures and functional metabolism. This allows for comprehensive imaging of all organs, soft tissues, bones, blood vessels, and other systems without the need for ionizing radiation.

United States market for Whole-Body MRI is estimated to increase from US$ million in 2025 to US$ million by 2032, at a CAGR of % from 2026 through 2032.

China market for Whole-Body MRI is estimated to increase from US$ million in 2025 to US$ million by 2032, at a CAGR of % from 2026 through 2032.
