Abstracts

Cypermethrin, a pyrethroid compound is widely used due to its high insecticidal potential and slow resistance in pest. It is considered less toxic for human use, because of poor dermal absorption, rapid metabolism, less tissue accumulation, and environmental persistence. Cases of accidental pyrethroid poisoning at work places have been reported[2], but poisoning with suicidal intention is extremely rare. Increased over-the-counter availability of these insecticides is likely to increase the prevalence of their toxicity. Furthermore, resemblance of Cypermethrin toxicity to organophosphate poisoning pose a diagnostic dilemma in the emergency department
