Abstracts

Cypermethrin is a synthetic pyrethroid insecticide used to control many pests, including moth pests of cotton, fruit and vegetable crops. Many patents for pyrethroids expired between 1993 and 1996; the market looks set to open up dramatically. It is also used for crack, crevice and spot treatment for control of insect pests in stores, warehouses, industrial buildings, houses, apartment buildings, greenhouses, laboratories and on ships, railcars, buses, trucks and aircraft. The report provides key statistics on the market status of the Cypermethrin Exporters & Importers and is a valuable source of guidance and direction for companies and individuals interested in the industry. This report includes 711 Importers globally from 69 importing countries. Around 44 exporters currently exist in the market with 27866485 Kg quantity. Technical Cypermethrin is a mixture of eight different isomers, each of which may have its own chemical and biological properties. Cypermethrin is a moderately toxic material by dermal absorption or ingestion Cypermethrin is metabolized and eliminated significantly more slowly by rainbow trout than by mammals or birds, which may explain this compound's higher toxicity in fish than in other organisms.

Note: Complete consumer information will be provided in a separate MS-Excel sheet.
