Abstracts

Metamitron is a synthetic compound, of the chemical group the Triazinones. It is a herbicide, being selective and systemic in its action. Metamitron can be used on pre-emergence or post-emergence weeds. It is applied as a foliar spray, and is absorbed effectively through the leaf surface and the roots. Once absorbed it is translocated acropetally to the leaves of the target plants. The mode of action of Metamitron is to disrupt photosystem II, inhibiting electron transport. Target plants are weeds of fodder beet, mangels, red beets and sugar beets. These include grasses and broad-leaved weeds. Metamitron can be used on its own, or in various combinations with other common sugar beet protection products, namely desmedipham, ethofumesate and phenmedipham. The primary objective of the report is to identify opportunities in the market and present updates and insights, pertaining to various segments of the global Metamitron market. Present scenario represents Approx. 3150 MT importing quantity of Metamitron globally from 11 countries. Currently there are approx. 27 buyers exist globally in the market. Every market segment of the Metamitron industry is analyzed in a quantitative as well as qualitative way in order to provide the customers with a relative estimation of the global market.
