Abstracts

The global computer and peripheral connector industry experienced robust growth over the last five years and is expected to grow moderately with a CAGR of 6.2% over next five years (2012- 2017) and reach approximately US $16.7 billion in 2017. Rapid modernization of economies and increased disposable income stimulated the market growth.

Lucintel, a leading global management consulting and market research firm, has analyzed the global computer and peripheral and presents its findings in “Global Computer and Peripheral Connector Industry 2012-2017: Trend, Profit and Forecast Analysis.”

Lucintel research indicates that the global computer and peripheral connector industry is fragmented with APAC dominating this market. The global economic recession, continuous product innovations, rising trend toward portable devices, and convenience have significantly influenced the industry. Rapid modernization of economies and growing disposable income; huge demand for newer technologies such as laptops, notebooks, tablets, and iPads; initiatives taken by both government and private sectors; and growth in IT adoption levels in education, government, and corporate sectors resulted in strong growth during 2006-2011.

As per the study, general growth drivers for the industry include advanced product features with high-speed connectivity have influenced the development of this industry. Huge demand for connectors with compact size and high performance are creating more opportunities for the growth of the computer and peripheral connector industry. Some of the challenges such as global economic recession, fluctuations in price of raw materials, and stretched lead time had become the barrier for the industry.

This study provides an overview of the global computer and peripheral connector industry. The report tracks market sizing for four geographic regions of this market sector. The scope of this study is limited to annual trends for past five years and forecasts for next five years of this segment.

This comprehensive guide from Lucintel provides readers with valuable information and the tools needed to successfully drive critical business decisions with a thorough understanding of the market's potential. This report will save Lucintel clients hundreds of hours in personal research time on a global market and it offers significant benefits in expanding business opportunities throughout the global computer and peripheral connector industry analysis. In a fast-paced everchanging world, business leaders need every advantage available to them in a timely manner to drive change in the market and to stay ahead of their competition. This report provides business leaders with a keen advantage in this regard by making them aware of emerging trends and demand requirements on an annual basis.
