Background:

Due to the rapid growth in the Chinese Fiber glass industry in the last 5 years, China has become the biggest fiber glass producer in the world and by next 4-5 years its demand is going to surpass USA as mentioned in this new report titled “Opportunities in Chinese Fiberglass Market 2008-2013: Trend, Forecast and Market analysis” published by Lucintel. According to Lucintel, the Chinese Fiber Glass industry is slated to grow to 1257.8 Kton (2319 million dollar) by 2013.

There are some significant driving factors for the growth of Chinese fiberglass consumption and production in addition to the general economic drivers. Along with liberalization and privatization of Chinese industries, China’s entry into the World Trade Organization in 2001, and massive foreign direct investment (over $70 billion in 2007 alone), many other factors favor continued fiberglass production growth in China including:

Economic Growth

Improved Quality of Product

Cost Advantage

Sectoral boom in pipe, tank, construction, wind segments

This rapid increase in production capacity created a gap in demand and supply of Fiber

Glass in China. This report examines the different outcome of demand supply gap of fiber glass in China. A lot of changes are happening in the Chinese fiber glass market. The rapid growth in the Chinese fiber glass market is spurred by growth in Construction, pipes, tanks, automotive and the electronics market. In the last five years the average growth in the overall Chinese fiber glass market was in double digits. This report discusses the most recent developments in the Chinese glass fiber market like growth of wind energy in China and how this wind energy sector will drive the fiber glass market in China.
