Abstracts

Compound chocolate is a product made from a combination of cocoa, vegetable fat and sweeteners. It is used as a lower-cost alternative to true chocolate, as it uses less-expensive hard vegetable fats such as coconut oil or palm kernel oil in place of the more expensive cocoa butter. It may also be known as 'compound coating' or 'chocolatey coating' when used as a coating for candy.[1] It is often used in less expensive candy bars to replace enrobed chocolate on a product.

This report elaborates the market size, market characteristics, and market growth of the Compound chocolate industry, and breaks down according to the type, application, and consumption area of Compound chocolate. The report also conducted a PESTEL analysis of the industry to study the main influencing factors and entry barriers of the industry.
