Abstracts

Espresso Coffee is coffee brewed by expressing or forcing a small amount of nearly boiling water under pressure through finely ground coffee beans. Espresso is generally thicker than coffee brewed by other methods, has a higher concentration of suspended and dissolved solids, and has crema on top (a foam with a creamy consistency). As a result of the pressurized brewing process, the flavors and chemicals in a typical cup of espresso are very concentrated.

This report elaborates the market size, market characteristics, and market growth of the Espresso industry, and breaks down according to the type, application, and consumption area of Espresso. The report also conducted a PESTEL analysis of the industry to study the main influencing factors and entry barriers of the industry.
