Abstracts

Flooring is the general term for a permanent covering of a floor, or for the work of installing such a floor covering. Floor covering is a term to generically describe any finish material applied over a floor structure to provide a walking surface. Both terms are used interchangeably but floor covering refers more to loose-laid materials.

The floor under the flooring is called the subfloor, which provides the support for the flooring. Special purpose subfloors like floating floors, raised floors or sprung floors may be laid upon another underlying subfloor which provides the structural strength. Subfloors that are below grade (underground) or ground level floors in buildings without basements typically have a concrete subfloor. Subfloors above grade (above ground) typically have a plywood subfloor.

This report elaborates the market size, market characteristics, and market growth of the Luxury Flooring industry, and breaks down according to the type, application, and consumption area of Luxury Flooring. The report also conducted a PESTEL analysis of the industry to study the main influencing factors and entry barriers of the industry.
