Abstracts

Water Hardness Removal removes calcium, magnesium and certain other metal cations from hard water. Since no soap is wasted to remove calcium ions, the resulting soft water requires less soap for the same cleaning work. Soft water can also extend the life of the pipe by reducing or eliminating scale build-up in pipes and fittings. Water softening is typically achieved using lime softening or ion exchange resins, but is increasingly being achieved using nanofiltration or reverse osmosis membranes.
This report elaborates the market size, market characteristics, and market growth of the Water Hardness Removal industry, and breaks down according to the type, application, and consumption area of Water Hardness Removal. The report also conducted a PESTEL analysis of the industry to study the main influencing factors and entry barriers of the industry.

In Chapter 3.4 of the report, the impact of the COVID-19 outbreak on the industry was fully assessed. Fully risk assessment and industry recommendations were made for Water Hardness Removal in a special period. This chapter also compares the markets of Pre COVID-19 and Post COVID-19.
In addition, chapters 8-12 consider the impact of COVID-19 on the regional economy.
