Abstracts

Camel Milk is unfamiliar to many people, but in many countries it has been considered an irreplaceable nutrient. In Africa, it is often recommended that people with frailty drink camel milk in order to enhance the body's resistance. According to the UN Food and Agriculture Organization, in addition to being rich in vitamin C, camel milk also contains a large amount of unsaturated fatty acids, iron and vitamin B needed by the human body. Although the taste is somewhat saltier than milk, it is already very popular. At the same time, camel milk also provides a source of income for the nomads.

Based on the Camel Dairy market development status, competitive landscape and development model in different regions of the world, this report is dedicated to providing niche markets, potential risks and comprehensive competitive strategy analysis in different fields. From the competitive advantages of different types of products and services, the development opportunities and consumption characteristics and structure analysis of the downstream application fields are all analyzed in detail. To Boost Growth during the epidemic era, this report analyzes in detail for the potential risks and opportunities which can be focused on.

In Chapter 2.4 of the report, we share our perspectives for the impact of COVID-19 from the long and short term.

In chapter 3.4, we provide the influence of the crisis on the industry chain, especially for marketing channels.

In chapters 8-13, we update the timely industry economic revitalization plan of the country-wise government.
