Abstracts

A Ferris wheel (often called as a giant wheel) is an attraction that consists of a multi-component vertical rotating wheel that carries passengers attached to the rim so that when the wheel rotates, they are held upright, usually by gravity. Some of the larger modern wheels have cars mounted outside the rim, with electric motors to independently rotate each car to keep it straight. These wheels are sometimes called observation wheels and their cars are called capsules. However, these other names are also used for wheels with gravity-oriented classic cars. The original Ferris wheel was designed and built by George Washington's Gale Ferris Junior as a milestone for the 1893 World's Fair in Chicago. The generic term 'Ferris Wheel' is now used in American English for all these structures, which have become the most popular type of attraction in US public fairs.

Based on the Ferris Wheel market development status, competitive landscape and development model in different regions of the world, this report is dedicated to providing niche markets, potential risks and comprehensive competitive strategy analysis in different fields. From the competitive advantages of different types of products and services, the development opportunities and consumption characteristics and structure analysis of the downstream application fields are all analyzed in detail. To Boost Growth during the epidemic era, this report analyzes in detail for the potential risks and opportunities which can be focused on.
