Abstracts

A gift card is a stored value card that is usually issued by a retailer or bank. And it is used as a substitute for cash. Gift cards issued by retailers and marketers are also as part of a promotional strategy to attract recipients to come in or return to the store. These cards are usually only available at the relevant retail outlets, and these cannot be redeemed. Generally, the card has expiration dates or fees. Moreover, one feature of these cards is that they are usually anonymous and discarded when the stored value on the card is exhausted.

Based on the Gift Cards market development status, competitive landscape and development model in different regions of the world, this report is dedicated to providing niche markets, potential risks and comprehensive competitive strategy analysis in different fields. From the competitive advantages of different types of products and services, the development opportunities and consumption characteristics and structure analysis of the downstream application fields are all analyzed in detail. To Boost Growth during the epidemic era, this report analyzes in detail for the potential risks and opportunities which can be focused on.

In Chapter 2.4 of the report, we share our perspectives for the impact of COVID-19 from the long and short term.

In chapter 3.4, we provide the influence of the crisis on the industry chain, especially for marketing channels.
