Abstracts

Oxygen-free copper (OFC) is a group of forged, highly conductive copper alloys that are electrolytically refined to reduce oxygen levels to 0.001% or less. Electrolytic Toughness (ETP) copper is the most widely used copper in electrical applications worldwide. The lowest conductivity of ETP is 100% IACS with a purity of 99.9%. The oxygen content is 0.02% to 0.04% (typical). It is widely used in electrical systems, electrical installations in the home, office and industrial as well as in various electrical and electronic equipment. Based on the Oxygen-free Copper (OFC) and Electrolytic Tough Pitch (ETP) Copper market development status, competitive landscape and development model in different regions of the world, this report is dedicated to providing niche markets, potential risks and comprehensive competitive strategy analysis in different fields. From the competitive advantages of different types of products and services, the development opportunities and consumption characteristics and structure analysis of the downstream application fields are all analyzed in detail. To Boost Growth during the epidemic era, this report analyzes in detail for the potential risks and opportunities which can be focused on.
