Abstracts

Given the lack of liquid or balm ingredients, powder cleansers usually contain fewer preservatives. The powder in the cleansers are generally fine, smooth particles—such as pulverized minerals—or plant-based powders, such as oat or rice powder, which result in exfoliation without harsh grit or plastic microbeads. Many facial powder cleansers also contain enzymes that are activated upon addition of water and can give an additional level of cleansing and exfoliation.

The report combines extensive quantitative analysis and exhaustive qualitative analysis, ranges from a macro overview of the total market size, industry chain, and market dynamics to micro details of segment markets by type, application and region, and, as a result, provides a holistic view of, as well as a deep insight into the Powder Face Cleanser market covering all its essential aspects.
