Abstracts

Transcutaneous electrical nerve stimulation (TENS) is a commonly used nonpharmacologic and noninvasive treatment for pain. TENS Machine refers to devices and equipment which are used for transcutaneous electrical nerve stimulation. In TENS therapy for pain management, a small, battery-operated device delivers low-voltage electrical current through the skin via electrodes placed near the source of pain. The electricity from the electrodes stimulates nerves in the affected area and sends signals to the brain that 'scramble' normal pain perception.
