Abstracts

A machine tool used in the mass production of a unique product or a family of similar products by processing the drilling, boring, milling, and other machining operations in a given order on each part machined.

Transfer machines are metal working machine tools with several stations for performing various machining processes. Workpieces are fed into the machine and automatically indexed from station to station. Each station simultaneously performs a different operation on the workpiece and they exit the machine as a partially or completely finished unit. Standard transfer machine systems consist of multiple, sequential mechanical components, such as machining heads, transfer devices, indexing tables, and work. Workpieces are held by stationary or traveling fixtures and indexed in a circular or linear path. In the course of a cycle, components pass through each work station undergoing specific machining operations. The indexing table turns either vertically or horizontally and supports both continuous and intermittent movement. When combined with an automated transfer line for part feeding, transfer machines amplify production rate.

Based on the Transfer Machine market development status, competitive landscape and development model in different regions of the world, this report is dedicated to providing niche markets, potential risks and comprehensive competitive strategy analysis in different fields. From the competitive advantages of different types of products and services, the development opportunities and consumption characteristics and structure analysis of the downstream application fields are all analyzed in detail. To Boost Growth during the epidemic era, this report analyzes in detail for the potential risks and opportunities which can be focused on.
