KEY HIGHLIGHTS

The apparel retail market includes baby clothing, toddler clothing and casual wear, essentials, formalwear, formalwear-occasion, and outerwear for men, women, boys and girls; excludes sports-specific clothing. All market data and forecasts are represented as a consumer expenditure in retailers which includes sales taxes (e.g. VAT) and figures presented are in nominal terms (i.e., without adjustment for inflation) and all currency conversions used in the creation of this report have been calculated using constant 2020 annual average exchange rates.

The UK apparel retail market had total revenues of $41.3bn in 2020, representing a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of -4.9% between 2016 and 2020.

The womenswear segment was the market's most lucrative in 2020, with total revenues of $23.6bn, equivalent to 57.2% of the market's overall value.

Pay later options like Klarna are incentivizing the purchase of fast fashion items by delaying payment by up to 30 days or spreading the cost over three months. This has further accelerated growth in the fast fashion segment, but could lead to a slowdown in spending in the long-term due to rising levels of debt encouraged by pay later platforms, particularly amongst young female consumers.
