The profile also contains descriptions of the leading players including key financial metrics and analysis of competitive pressures within the market.

Key Highlights

The transportation services industry comprises the air, marine, rail, and road freight sectors.

The Argentinian transportation services industry group had total revenues of $4.1 billion in 2022, representing a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 4.2% between 2017 and 2022. For instance, according to GlobalData, Argentina's online retail market value stood at $14.7 billion in 2022 and is expected to reach $14.9 billion in 2027. Innovations in last-mile delivery solutions, such as drones and autonomous vehicles, will reshape urban logistics, enhancing freight transportation efficiency. In 2023, the Argentinean Ministry of Transportation has been working to secure Chinese investments in freight and passenger wagons and to start building $862 million worth of railroad infrastructure. The growth of the industry will also be enhanced as a result of growing investment in the end-user market and the emergence of key players. In an effort to lower carbon emissions and increase market share, companies are making continuous efforts to transition to electric vehicles.

The road segment accounted for the industry group's largest proportion in 2022, with total revenues of $3.1 billion, equivalent to 76.5% of the industry group's overall value.

The growth in Argentina's transportation services industry is influenced by trade deals. Argentina's main trading partners are the US, Brazil, and China. Additionally, Argentina engages in other regional trade organizations including the Southern Common Market (Mercosur) and the Latin American Integration Association.
