The profile also contains descriptions of the leading players including key financial metrics and analysis of competitive pressures within the market.

KEY HIGHLIGHTS

The non-life insurance market consists of the general insurance market segmented into motor, property, liability and other insurance. The other segment is made up of non-life insurance products including health, travel, and accident cover among others. The value of the non-life insurance market is shown in terms of gross premium incomes. Gross premium income is defined as the insurer's premium income for the year from its policies, calculated without reduction for reinsurance premiums paid or payable by the insurer.

The Australian non-life insurance market had total gross written premiums of $62.5 million in 2022, representing a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 6.6% between 2017 and 2022.

The Motor segment accounted for market's the largest proportion in 2022, with total gross written premiums of $25.2 million, equivalent to 40.4% of the market's overall value.

The insurance sector's profits increased by 281% in 2021, indicating a significant recovery from the impact of natural hazards and the business interruptions caused by COVID-19 in 2020. These improved profits were supported by improved claims levels, with gross claims as a proportion of gross premiums decreasing by 5.6% for risk premiums. COVID-19 has changed the way insurance companies operate, providing new opportunities for growth. Besides utilizing the latest technology to meet the digital preferences of customers, insurers should investigate in upgrading their systems and implement appropriate cyber security measures. The performance of the market is forecast to accelerate, with an anticipated CAGR of 9.9% for the five-year period 2022 - 2027, which is expected to drive the market to a value of $100.0million by the end of 2027.
