SUMMARY

Meat & Livestock in China industry profile provides top-line qualitative and quantitative summary information including: market share, market size (value and volume 2017-21, and forecast to 2026). The profile also contains descriptions of the leading players including key financial metrics and analysis of competitive pressures within the market.

KEY HIGHLIGHTS

The meat and livestock market is defined as animals reared worldwide for consumption purposes.

The Chinese meat and livestock market had total revenues of $242.6 billion in 2021, representing a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 2.7% between 2016 and 2021.

Market production volumes declined with a CAGR of -0.8% between 2016 and 2021, to reach a total of 76.3 million tonnes in 2021.

Government dietary guidelines in China have contributed to a slowdown in meat consumption in the country in recent years, with plans to reduce the amount of meat that citizens eat by 50% by 2030. This has had a negative impact on production volumes. Moreover, increasing pork prices and animal management cost has reduced the pork production volume.
