Mexico City Profile - Comprehensive Overview, PEST Analysis and Analysis of Key Industries including Technology, Tourism and Hospitality, Construction and Retail

SUMMARY

“City Profile - Mexico” provides historical and forecast data on key city level metrics along with analytical coverage of the latest political, economic, social, technological, infrastructural, legal and environmental issues affecting Mexico city.

Mexico is the most populous metropolitan area in North America being home for more than 21 million people. Being a major crude oil export partner with the US, foreign trade constitutes a significant proportion to the regional economy. The nominal GDP of the area accounts for around 38% of the country’s GDP. The Mexico City metropolitan area’s economy in 2020 suffered its worst recession due to the outbreak of COVID-19. Investments and exports were declined in Mexico, as the corona virus outbreak has largely affected its major investment countries and trade partners, especially the US

The report contains detailed tourism, retail, construction, technology and public infrastructure data and insight into economic, social, and industry trends.

SCOPE

The service sector remains the key contributor to the regional economy - and the major employer.

Since the outbreak of COVID-19, the tourism industry experienced a persistent decline in terms of tourist arrivals. Although Mexico did not close its borders, many countries in the world did, especially the US, Spain and Italy where COVID-19 pandemic impact was strong.
