Construction in Asia-Pacific

SUMMARY

Construction in Asia-Pacific industry profile provides top-line qualitative and quantitative summary information including: market size (value 2014-18, and forecast to 2023). The profile also contains descriptions of the leading players including key financial metrics and analysis of competitive pressures within the market.

KEY HIGHLIGHTS

The construction industry is defined as the value of work put in place annually in the residential and non-residential segments. Civil engineering work is excluded. Where possible data has not been seasonally adjusted.

The Asia-Pacific construction industry had total revenues of $1,333.5bn in 2018, representing a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 6.2% between 2014 and 2018.

Whilst China's manufacturing industries are still growing, the construction pipeline generated by these industries showed the slowest growth in 2018.

Over the next several years, India's emerging ecommerce sector will generate an increasing demand for storage and logistics infrastructure.
