KEY HIGHLIGHTS

For the purposes of this profile, a generic drug is defined as a copy of an ethical (prescription) drug formerly protected by patents that have now expired. Both unbranded generics and all branded generics are included. However, off-patent drugs that continue to be offered by the original manufacturer under the original name, and which form part of the 'generic-eligible' market, are not included.

The Canadian generics market had total revenues of $5.3bn in 2020, representing a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 2.5% between 2016 and 2020.

Market consumption volume increased with a CAGR of 1.2% between 2016 and 2020, to reach a total of 73.8% in 2020.

Canada has some of the highest prices for generics in the world, which means that revenues can be large, but provinces are working together to make the system fairer and improve access to cheaper medication.
