SYNOPSIS

Essential resource for top-line data and analysis covering the Japan insurance brokers market. Includes market size and segmentation data, textual and graphical analysis of market growth trends, leading companies and macroeconomic information.

KEY HIGHLIGHTS

The insurance brokers sector is valued in relation to the total brokerage revenue of non-life insurance and reinsurance brokerage firms. All currency conversions have been carried out at constant annual average 2016 exchange rates.

The Japanese insurance brokers sector had total revenues of $528.7m in 2016, representing a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 4.8% between 2012 and 2016.

The primary insurance segment was the sector's most lucrative in 2016, with total revenues of $412.4m, equivalent to 78% of the sector's overall value. The reinsurance segment contributed revenues of $116.3m in 2016, equating to 22% of the sector's aggregate value.

The growth of the Japanese insurance brokers sector was driven by the growth of demand for non-life insurance products in recent years. However, that demand has been grown at a decelerating trend which has affected the growth pattern of the brokers sector.
